Whispers from The Brighter World
A Sixth Revelation

Friday, July 22, 2011 – 10:00 a.m.

For the Birthday of Parthasarathi Maharaj, July 24

The star of this boy, Kamlesh Patel, is already shining in the firmament; you may give him his rightful place in this world and prepare him for our Mission's constructive future. Our enlightened eyes have been set upon him for a long time, but the moment had not come yet; he had yet to grow by your side, in the background and under our vigilance.

Everything had to happen in this way; events of this kind are unavoidable. We are all in the hands of God, the unique higher power that governs our destinies. Here, and elsewhere, we become mere implementers, with varying degrees of opportunity to act – that is the way it goes.

You can rest assured, with peace in your heart, that when you leave this world everything is in place for a well-prepared succession. Nothing will be simple; but this is true for everyone in this world.

Be at peace. Your successor will work as per your wishes, and his descendants will leave their mark on our Mission, where great things are yet to be achieved, and over a long span of time.

All of us give you our best. Our inexhaustible blessings carry you more than ever. We wish you all the best, my very dear and very great son, chosen among all.
