Whispers from The Brighter World
A Sixth Revelation

Wednesday, July 27, 2011 – 10:00 a.m.

Imagine a bouquet of flowers with a thousand colours, each more beautiful than the other, filling the air with their exquisite scent. It is the same with our voices, when they touch people's hearts through these writings. They are transmitted through the air and are not limited to this Earth; evidence of this was given to you. Why would we have been giving these messages for so many years if they did not serve a specific purpose in this world – that of conquering a space of beauty and love, in keeping with the current times?

Henceforth, the facts are established regarding the path traversed and the effect of these texts in people's hearts. Beautiful souls are nourished by them and keep within themselves the subtle fragrance of that love mentioned so often here.

What else can we say, except that we should let time do its work and see its effects in a realm that is dear to us.

Blessed are the hearts that are transported by grace. They are moving towards an Eden of purity, beauty and, above all, love.

One day, may all our brothers and sisters come and drink copiously from this inexhaustible source which is delectable beyond words.

That has been our goal for all these years: to educate and enlighten hearts in this world of darkness, and to guide them on their way to real life...
