Whispers from The Brighter World
A Sixth Revelation

Sunday, August 7, 2011 – 10:00 a.m.

Imagine a better world where people are working on their spiritual growth while attending to their daily lives. Everything can be perfectly balanced and adjusted according to this profound yearning to make one's personal progress fulfilling.

This world of profit and numerous acts of violence does not attract enough noble souls; it has yet to win a space of purity and good intentions before the best can be accomplished. These times will come after great upheavals; this is inevitable.

May spirituality conquer all hearts and make them compatible with this future world, which will be more just and closer to true values.

Let us strive for it as best as possible.
