Whispers from The Brighter World
A Sixth Revelation

Monday, August 8, 2011 – 10:00 a.m.

Nothing can really change in this world without major upheavals. The divine power will manifest itself according to its laws and higher principles. Nothing can stop it. Human beings will then have to review their approach to life, their increasingly numerous demands leading society to every possible excess. They will bring about their own downfall; such precedents have already taken place on this planet. It is not the centre of the universe as humans believe.

Greedy for power, and for powers, many of them are wandering completely astray, ignoring the rules necessary for their true development. The great lesson will come; they will have to remember it and learn true wisdom – that which will save humanity and protect it for several centuries against these manifestations, dreadful in many respects. Our abhyasis want to know the whole truth; could they bear it? All in good time. Let them follow our teachings to the letter, and all will be well.
