Whispers from The Brighter World

Monday, June 28, 1999 – 8:00 a.m.

You should spare yourself, my child. You are going through a delicate period, and we are helping you.

Do not let yourself be overwhelmed; you must learn to say no. You know how fragile you are because of all your ordeals.

Those who love you must understand that you cannot do what you want.

On other planes, your sphere of action is widening; you must be at our disposal, remain well connected to us.

Move away from anything futile so that the channel is open at all times.

You have agreed; this is a choice on your part that you will not regret.

You know that we want the best for you; you are under close surveillance. Your way of doing, speaking and behaving must take this situation into account.

Don't worry, this is not alarming whatsoever – on the contrary, you have asked often enough to serve, it's up to you.

You are allowed only constructive criticism of others; listen to them – you have the training – without letting yourself be overwhelmed.

Finally, we will revert to the heart. Open it more and more; give love to your neighbor continuously, with thoughts and words that comfort and bless.

Become aware of this dimension and act accordingly, my dear daughter.
