Whispers from The Brighter World
A Sixth Revelation

Monday, August 15, 2011 – 10:00 a.m.

My dear daughter, your destiny is not ordinary. On the material plane, your life does not hold any major interest for you – and yet, you cannot imagine the impact of your work at the spiritual level. Do you consider it a job? It does not seem so. It is rather an act of love – that's what it is, and there lies the driving force of your life. Wasn't this always the case even before your fate crossed the sacred path of Sahaj Marg?

In the future, your work will take on its full extent and scope, touching more and more beings. These messages are not unacquainted with this fact, as they are a link between us and the heart of our aspirants.

A spiritual path must be based on inspired writings. Similar examples originated in the past, and the future will increasingly appreciate this kind of discourse, which targets the most subtle part of the being in order to deeply touch our readers.

As this boy who is dear to our hearts has written to you: "Your work is not finished yet, so please keep up." Can we find a better conclusion!

May your heart overflow with joy, my dear daughter.

Babuji
