Whispers from The Brighter World
A Sixth Revelation

Sunday, August 21, 2011 – 10:00 a.m.

My dear daughter, all has been said, yet your fervent heart keeps calling to ours – how to resist it...

As we are continuously listening to the movement of life, we happily receive the constant calls of our abhyasis. We are not insensitive to their pain and suffering, nor to their joys, and for some, their growing commitment within our Mission. Fervour is a redemptive energy. It builds the future of the Mission in its human structures.

Each one's commitment is critical; links in the chain must strengthen and form a force capable of defying time. Together, let us glorify this way of love so that it will stand in the future; the world will need it. Being so powerless in some parts of the globe, humanity will be helped in the future by the bastions formed by spiritual power. Weakened, or even frightened, humans will have this refuge. The abhyasis want to know, and so they should – the future is not rosy, as in idyllic tales. That is the way it goes; faith and love will save humanity. It is up to them to see.
