Whispers from The Brighter World
A Sixth Revelation

Friday, August 26, 2011 – 10:00 a.m.

here is a shore where peace is immutable; sensitive souls like to go there. Doesn't the remedy lie there, in this abode where divine fragrances enchant fervent visitors?

Sadhana offers this remedy. It embellishes everyday life, providing our brothers and sisters with a way to unite with the Divine and thus move towards the sacred shores.

Following a spiritual path entails some obligations and continuous effort in daily practice. Isn't it true that everything needs to be earned on this Earth and beyond! Such are the laws of life: nothing can be obtained easily. Effort is a guarantee of success.

Grace is the ensuing reward. It fulfils hearts that love ardently, propelling them on a path of surrender to the higher powers.

May all our brothers and sisters follow their Master in a state of trust and serenity provided by a diligent and fervent spiritual process; he is leading them to their highest destiny.
