Whispers from The Brighter World
A Sixth Revelation

Saturday, August 27, 2011 – 10:30 a.m.

Let your heart be happy – this, which we have just made you write, is it to your liking? So it seems, and for good reason. This issue has finally been resolved in our Mission. The facts will soon be known and appreciated by many of our abhyasis. Unanimity does not exist in this world, but this doesn't matter. Such are the divine laws prevailing here below. Blessed are those who comply, being grateful for the blessings provided by these laws.

Rest, my daughter, and be at peace. The best will eventually take place for all. That is the way it goes. Enjoy this very moment; it is magic for you.
