Whispers from The Brighter World
A Sixth Revelation

Wednesday, August 31, 2011 – 10:00 a.m.

Do not worry so much about this incident. You are not undeserving; humans often use language carelessly. That person, who is dear to your heart, did not intend anything bad, quite the contrary.

'What must be will be' – once again, this maxim applies here. The divine plans cannot be circumvented. Whether they are enlightened on this fact or not, human beings are subjected to laws whose scope they cannot imagine. As was emphasised by one of our brother abhyasis: 'the Mission is a buzzing beehive.'

What is good for our Mission will be accomplished in due time. Everything has long been planned and decided upon. May our abhyasis advance in trust and devotion towards their Master, without indulging too much in their imaginations.

What matters for us is only their spiritual advancement. May all be blessed.
