My dearest son,

Seeing you serene makes us happy. We would like to carry you – literally – to spare you all constraints and worries inherent in your duty. It is heavy and exacting; that is the way things are, and high offices are not immune to it. Such a mission here on Earth is not given to everyone, only to exceptional people. Regain serenity as much as possible. You are so dear to our hearts; we would like to carry you over the moon, but this is possible only in dreams on Earth. Your action is bearing fruit at this level: the Mission has already reached a stage worthy of the divine plan. We thank you for everything, dear great son of our united hearts. We will never tell you enough how much we love you.

When your decision about the succession is final, we urge you to exercise caution. It would be better if you brought your choice in this matter to the attention of all. Beware of revealing secrets through documents. It would be better, when you deem fit, to make things clear to everyone regarding the name of the future Master; thus everything will be said and irreversible. Schisms cannot be avoided, as humans do not respect anything. Some people are like that; they claim to love the Master, but they do whatever they want, dominated by their egos. Think of the previous instances; you have suffered much from them. That is the lot for each of us. As always, see and proceed as best you can, with all our love.
