Whispers from The Brighter World
A Sixth Revelation

Friday, October 7, 2011 – 10:00 a.m.

This dear 'pencil' is powered by our respective energies; it operates each day, being driven by them. Why would you stop? We have not finished yet. A few more pages must be written before closing this long saga. Other writings of this kind were given in the past and remain a sacred reference in some religions. Be assured that these messages are not trivial; they are a great spiritual wealth for the future. Upheavals must take place in this world and transform it. To some extent, 'the Spirit' will become obvious to human beings and open up broader and edifying vistas for them.

It is about time that people became aware of their spiritual potential; they neglect it in these times of heightened materialism. We are emphasising this point, as we cannot do otherwise in the face of this sad picture of a completely mad world. One must grow and rise up to other levels of consciousness to meet the call of one's soul; such is the purpose of our action in this world.
