Beloved Master
Revered Babuji Maharaj

Whispers from The Brighter World
A Sixth Revelation

Tuesday, October 18, 2011 – 10:00 a.m.

My beloved son,

See the progress made and what the Mission has become under your enlightened ministry. At the outset, many doubted my choice; likewise, others will now question your choice of successor. Such is always the case with human beings: they do not have the necessary perspective, and above all they lack a proper understanding of reality. Egotistical reactions are inevitable. We see this at all levels. So many of our practitioners ascribe qualities to themselves that they do not possess. We cannot change the world; our way is striving to help our brothers and sisters within the context of a planned evolution.

Our Mission is following its trajectory according to the divine plans; humanity is what it is. Let us continue on our journey. You have always done your best, my son. The day you come to join us will be a grand celebration; at last you will enjoy a deserved rest. Spare yourself and be at peace; all is well, my dear chosen son.

Your attentive and loving Master,

Babuji