Whispers from The Brighter World
A Sixth Revelation

Saturday, December 3, 2011 – 10:00 a.m. ove is the best asset in one's life. What would life be without it? A desert. Blessed are those who possess it and are nourished by it every day. They thus have a force that many lack; with this recourse, their existence on this Earth is embellished and strengthened .

No one is spared. When incarnate, the most beautiful souls also experience the pangs of suffering. It can take different forms. Whether it is visible or hidden, it can nevertheless be unbearable at times, to the point of bewildering even the strongest being.

The laws of life here below are unfathomable. They are attributable to the Creator of all things. Only divine love can save all; it is the supreme recourse without which a being would stand truly helpless.

Our dearest wish is that all our brothers and sisters should advance as much as possible on this path.
