Whispers from The Brighter World
A Sixth Revelation

Life feeds on life – we have already said this. How humans feed themselves is not decisive for their spiritual process; there are some famous examples that illustrate our comments well. All should act according to their hearts. Ours is not a strict sect imposing rigid principles; that is not our purpose. The path of a being concerning his or her evolution is based on higher principles relating to purity of intent, quality of their practice, and the love that emanates from them. Their sincerity towards the living Master is crucial. Blessed are those who revere him, respecting him as a divinised soul that reincarnated for the good of humanity.

To each their process, their faith and their determination to move forward. Some choose the wide, direct routes, while others linger on the way, neglecting the main thing; that is their choice and we cannot do anything about it. That is unfortunate, but the inner motivation of a being is up to each one. When it is sincere, we help aspirants achieve the goal – that is to say, the best. That is the way it goes.
