Whispers from The Brighter World
A Sixth Revelation

The flower of the Spirit expresses itself here all through these lines. Noticing only repetitions in our comments shows certain limitations in the perception of the subtlety that lies beyond the written expression. Not all our readers have this perception. It can manifest suddenly, changing everything in terms of the reader's sensitivity. Everyone must follow their own path. Inevitably differences exist; this is characteristic of the human race, and it is not alone in this aspect. Thus is creation and, as such, there is never any monotony.

Our brother and sister abhyasis demonstrate this principle very well, as diversity within our Mission is quite obvious. The key is to set a goal and stick to it, no matter what. 'Necessity is law' here where nothing really can be obtained without perseverance. Grace very often comes in addition to all this, completely disrupting life plans believed to be well established. 'Humans plan their lives, and what does God do? He laughs.'
