Whispers from The Brighter World
A Sixth Revelation

Tuesday, March 20, 2012 – 10:00 a.m.

So long as our beloved scribe meets our expectations, why should we stop this manifestation of the Spirit in the material world? Humans need comfort and writings capable of enlightening them, helping them in certain circumstances. May these lines contribute such aid. Modern life is not conducive to interiorisation and meditation; even beings of great depth and subtlety suffer from this situation. Wise are those who devote time to rest and inner reflection, whereby they can take stock of the situation and not lose sight of what is essential – this remains theirs. From one lifetime to the next, this sacred asset escapes the turbulence of material life. It is essential for humans, since this is the context for the unfolding of their history – a timeless one. Long is the path; where does it lead? Only this spiritual light lifts beings to their highest destiny. Will we manage to convince all our aspirants about the importance of a commitment of this sort? In this matter, they possess the solution. It is up to them to see and act according to their personal inspiration. Blessed are they all – here, where we wish them the best.
