Whispers from The Brighter World
A Sixth Revelation

Saturday, March 31, 2012 – 10:00 a.m.

Life is made up of continual worries. Matter is in constant motion and human beings must adapt not only to the turbulences of their physical bodies, but also to all that nature produces in its perpetual renewals.

The divine energy at the core of every cell transcends this fluctuating matter; its manifestation leads one towards an elevation of the soul. Blessed are those capable of becoming aware of this reality within themselves – this power, unique and redeeming in its essence. Science has so much more to discover. It takes time for consciousness to be awakened in each incarnate being. 'Intelligence' does not solve everything. Sometimes, it can even create barriers to this essential awakening. On the other hand, great simplicity of heart can foster such an awakening. Our symbol will remain unique in its principle; it goes to what is essential. Abhyasis of the future will recognise its spiritual value and give it its due respect. It is by no means a gimmick.

Some ancient civilisations are still distinguished by representations depicting an approach to essential truths. Are today's human beings ready to go further? Let us try to prepare our aspirants for the greatness the future will reveal to them, even it is puzzling at the present stage of human evolution. Everything will happen in due time. We cannot force anything; we only giving open-minded people a few more elements for their advancement in this way of the heart. May the best come about in each of our brothers and sisters.
