Whispers from The Brighter World
A Sixth Revelation

Sunday April 1, 2012 – 10:00 a.m.

We have commented extensively on the symbol, hoping to have met all the expectations of my dear son. Having this symbolic representation in material form will be a benchmark for our Mission. Everything happens at the appointed time, and so it must be.

Since its inception, Sahaj Marg has made great progress in people's hearts; it will keep winning them, and will do so for a long time to come. Thus is history written, and such is crucial in human evolution. We are satisfied with our contribution to it; all of us here are rejoicing over this – we who can, at this level, measure the progress made. A stage yet to come is being prepared in our Mission, which will have to face difficult situations; this is how it is in the history of this world. Regarding our way, everything is for the best. Its aura is expanding to the satisfaction of all of us.
