Whispers from The Brighter World
A Sixth Revelation

Tuesday, April 3, 2012 – 10:00 a.m.

For how many years has this ritual been taking place? It doesn't matter – the moment nevertheless remains unique. This page, like most of those written so far, will be read by our fervent followers. They understand the importance of these messages, which is something their Master keeps reiterating. Do they all listen to him? Let time do its work, and slowly rebellious-minded people will advance in terms of the subtlety of their hearts, allowing them a different approach to this reality. Not all of our aspirants evolve at the same pace. The call of the heart remains decisive in this matter. We cannot force anything. We can only respond and act according to what is asked of us. It is beautiful and reassuring to see a soul rising above the limits of ignorance and moving towards the ultimate goal with confidence in the incarnate Master, the custodian of our energies. The Mission is structuring itself at all levels of consciousness; the call of the Divine is being more strongly felt in people's hearts. Isn't this advancement the only possible salvation for minds that are open to divine mercy? We are happy to witness the benefits of such progress. Our way is growing stronger in this unique status, blessed by the higher powers. Thus all is well.
