Whispers from The Brighter World

Saturday, July 14, 2012 — 10:00 a.m.

Life flies with its trail of sorrow but also joys. The joys of the soul are unequalled; they are of a different order. Humanly indescribable, they nourish and maintain the soul in its fervour. Yours knows that 'fervour'; it carries you and allows you to overcome trials. You have weathered many of them throughout this incarnation. Would you have become who you are today without them? The mystery of life remains unfathomable and man keeps moving on without understanding the reality of the events which life is punctuated with. Man assumes, proposes, and organises his life, yet life thwarts his best plans. Surrendering is the important element in this matter; it is not easy to accept it, to include it in a spiritual approach capable of making man advance towards true knowledge. The latter is nurtured by and emanates from the Divine; it leads the being towards an inescapable fact necessary for its evolution. Here we propose a means, a way that can channel this unique force and gradually lead man to the goal. Nothing is simple or easy; a minimum commitment is required and especially a strong aspiration for the Divine, as well as real and deep faith in the power of the incarnate Master who is supported by Masters of the sacred cartel. Every possible effort is made to achieve the best results; faith and relentless efforts ensure that the sincere aspirant succeeds according to his heart.
