The Medium: "Babuji, Babuji..."

My daughter, let your heart speak, do not repress it. Love carries you and inspires your life; these messages result from it. Why could we not mention here that which is? Would all these messages have existed without it? Maybe not so many! Such an unprecedented amount in history and in this area can only be achieved through great fervour. They will influence the lives of many people and they will certainly become a reference in the field of spirituality. As with all things, in this too, time will do its work. The Sahaj Marg Mission will continue to grow in the hearts. Many men and women will understand the real need to focus their lives on a spiritual approach meant to yield concrete results. Many changes will be brought about on the Earth; they will occur in stages and will determine future life in this world. Everything must change; this cycle is coming to an end and excesses of all kinds destroy that which constitutes the very essence of the current system. Everything will have to be reconsidered; it will happen in successive stages, and human beings will have to adapt at all costs. They will have no other choice, nature will impose on them the consequences of their big mistakes. Precedents have already demonstrated that man is not master here below; he lays down his law which eventually turns against him with force and noise. This is how it is. "
