Whispers from The Brighter World

Sunday, August 5, 2012 — 10:00 a.m.

You know the ritual: relax and let your heart savour this moment of communion, unparalleled throughout the day. A surrendered heart attracts our energies and the grace that propels it towards our united hearts. Love begets love; we have mentioned it so many times. It illuminates a spiritual path. Without it, an approach would not be productive: it would lack what is essential. A simple being, yet one who is full of love, has his or her rightful place in a journey where the Masters are able to recognise the chosen ones.

This wealth of messages will remain an important asset in our Mission. Repetitions are numerous, but intentional. An abhyasi needs these constant reminders to not lose sight of what motivates his or her process.

The constant movement of life can distract abhyasis from their goal. Humans are fragile and often confused. A spiritual process of this nature remains a valuable asset for them, a reminder of what constitutes their own reality. Their souls aspire to the Divine, to the mercy provided by a steadfast and productive approach. Efforts are crowned with success, one might say; bliss cannot be achieved easily, but a diligent and sincere approach lifts up hearts to their highest destiny and allows them to benefit from ceaseless graces resulting from their perseverance.

May all our faithful aspirants advance towards bliss under our constant blessings.
