Whispers from The Brighter World

Monday, August 6, 2012 — 10:00 a.m.

Many opportunities are opening up for the Mission. The time will come when humans will understand the absolute necessity of advancing spiritually in this lifetime. The saying goes that time lost cannot be made up, and this is right to a certain extent. Regarding spirituality, the rules are beyond human standards. So many wonders take place when an exceptional surge of the heart occurs. The divine laws are incomparable; they have no resemblance to human laws. The heart is the seat of all mysteries. Do humans really know its resources, its many capabilities on subtle levels that are beyond any scientific approach? Not many people suspect or truly know what this vital organ is. It is endowed with extensive powers far from the rules established in this world. Spiritual life finds its centre of strength in this vibrational sphere undetectable to humans. It is and will remain the magisterial centre point linking a being to the subtle realm, to what is essential beyond an incarnation. It is a mystery to human beings and will remain so for a very long time. God's ways are unfathomable; no machine, however exorbitantly priced, can ever challenge them by seeking to understand them.

It is up to each person to do their best with their own understanding of things. This is how it is.
