My Beloved Master
Revered Babuji Maharaj

Whispers from The Brighter World

Tuesday, August 7, 2012 — 10:00 a.m.

Echoes from these messages are positive; their daily dissemination allows many receptive hearts to better perceive them. They will increasingly become part of the daily life of our brothers and sisters. Our very dear son Parthasarathi, in his great wisdom, has made the right decision. With the passing years, we can see our brothers and sisters growing imperceptibly, and yet very satisfactorily. Most of them manage to lead a balanced material and spiritual life, which is not always easy in this world that is so disturbed and, for the greatest number of people, far, so far away from such values. Our long-standing faithful aspirants can sense significant changes within, even if some character-related aspects are still affecting behaviours. Advancing at all costs and following one's Master with confidence, respect, and love open the doors one by one so that, one day, one can catch a glimpse of what the most committed seeker manages to see. The ultimate goal is the culmination of a process; the many people who follow us in varying degrees have made that choice and they are advancing at their own pace, and yet definitively. The commitment of the most ardent heart provides a beneficial energy. Love begets love, we cannot remain indifferent to this expectation; it yields benefits the importance of which cannot be assessed by human beings. Blessed are the pure in heart, the sincere and the fully committed; celestial pathways are open to them under our constant blessings."

Babuji Maharaj