Whispers from The Brighter World

Friday, August 10, 2012 — 10:00 a.m.

My daughter, all the great beings protecting the Mission have communicated with you in different ways. They thus show their perpetual attention towards the Mission, towards its development and our dearest Parthasarathi, the great Master aboard the giant ship capable of withstanding the strong waves of life on this Earth. Unreservedly respecting his decisions should be the main line along which our sincere and faithful abhyasis should stand. Cohesion is more than ever essential for harmonious and productive development in every way.

"We highly appreciate the commitment, the action, as well as the fervour of our faithful candidates. Their diversities form a whole which consolidates, at the material level, the power of a way like ours. Our way is adapted to the current era for the good of all humans. What it generates on the spiritual plane and which benefits all of humanity is not negligible. Indeed our way prepares the future, a better world where people will understand the need to rise, to refine themselves, and to lessen their tendencies by working on themselves with the support of the action of the living Master who operates at higher levels. Nothing comes easily; perseverance, faith and honesty are the best guarantees of success. All our candidates are monitored and helped more than they believe. It is up to them to carry on; the way is open to them, under our blessings."
