My Beloved Master
Revered Babuji Maharaj

Whispers from The Brighter World

Tuesday, August 14, 2012 — 10:00 a.m.

Plunge into yourself; search for the best and you will find it as is customary in this ritual. Here the mists fade away, giving way to bliss. It enables you to capture our comments in a state of quietness and surrender.

"Thus can our abhyasis find serenity within, through diligent practice fully centred on the Master, the centre point of their practice. Our great son gives and will give until the end and beyond, when that day comes. The alliance of Masters remains vigilant and carries on their action; so will our son, but we are not there yet. Abhyasis should rest assured: his current problems do not in any way diminish his power — not only is it intact, but it is increased tenfold.

"This Sahaj Marg Mission is a coherent whole whose Master is not transient. Indeed, his action is not short-lived, as is the case for splinter groups arising from egotistical impulses that end up in time being cut off from the divine source. This spiritual way of the Mission is desired and inspired by higher powers. It clears the way; it is the way that is helping the greatest number more and more, and will do so for a very long time in this world. It is meant to maintain points of reference in this transitional era, before humanity eventually opens up to the higher reality. That time will come; it is an extraordinary grace to contribute to it. May each and every one become aware of it and advance on this path leading to the time to come."

Babuji Maharaj