My Beloved Master
Revered Babuji Maharaj

Whispers from The Brighter World

Wednesday, August 15, 2012 — 10:00 a.m.

A great surge of love is manifesting itself here and there. On this special day, whatever the distances, fervent abhyasis feel in themselves that which emanates from the heart of their divine Master. Uniting in his power and in the love of the united Masters who carry him through this difficult time is a praiseworthy act of devotion and gratitude for what he grants to all. This day will remain in the memory of fervent aspirants. The Mission is growing and so are the responsibilities, and this represents a heavy burden beyond the spiritual aspect. Spirituality wins over hearts and prepares them for the subsequent stages of their journey on this Earth. Having a living Master is a rare blessing; his action goes far beyond this world and it greatly facilitates the various stages an incarnate soul must clear in crossing from one world to another.

"Doesn't everything have its raison d'être? Why do we have a spiritual way like ours, with a method meant to progress in a subtle manner and liberate from human shackles? Faith and rituals of all kinds are fine, but going beyond these allows a spiritual being to save valuable time on the path.

"May all hearts, in these moments, turn to the incarnate Master highly blessed by higher powers. So will it be until the end for this Mission so dear to our hearts; it is a priceless jewel. Happy are the abhyasis who are fully committed in this unique way. Let love uplift you all to the highest."

Babuji Maharaj