Whispers from The Brighter World

Tuesday, August 21, 2012 — 10:00 a.m.

All 'Scriptures' of this kind constitute a reference for the world; it has always been so. Various spiritual movements in history have relied on their content — that is to say, a teaching in accordance with the times. The world is changing, evolving and advancing in knowledge. Today's human beings, however little their degree of enlightenment, cannot ignore this kind of communication; it has always been present — this is indisputable to evolved minds. The Sahaj Marg Mission is no exception to the rule. Why would it not benefit from such an opportunity! It is reassuring for us to see these messages increasingly appreciated. Our way will prevail in time; it is good that it adjusts to realities, even if they are not within the reach of all.

As history has repeatedly shown, it is difficult for the truth to prevail. In the past, many evolved beings paid dearly for expounding their ideas. The present provides an opportunity for humans; our Mission is duty-bound to enlighten people. Advancing spiritually does not mean staying in a state of ignorance of the laws that operate at a particular level. To accept these messages is also to open up to a reality that sooner or later will prevail in a masterly fashion in this world. We have mentioned here often enough the important changes that are coming; we should anticipate them and prepare our brothers and sisters, however little it may be, to help them advance. Nothing should be neglected. We want the best for all — that is the aim of this teaching, in conjunction with a practice that is out of the ordinary. May all our aspirants benefit greatly from it; such is our wish.
