Birthday Anniversary

(At 7:00 p.m., after the 6:00 p.m. meditation.)

All is well, a remarkable work has been achieved; my son has surpassed himself. You may write down the following:

"This seminar will have a great impact, it will not change the course of history but what has been cleaned will help many souls. My child, thank you for your remembrance and your love. You are dear to my heart; one day you will be by my side, and you will do all that your body prevents you from doing here below. Patrick is doing an important work for the Mission; he sometimes loses heart, it is such a burden. You have ties with this boy."

The Medium: "Who, Babuji?"

"It is a son; he will need you one day."

The Medium: "Babuji, ...need me?"

"Yes, don't be surprised; one often needs someone smaller than oneself."

(Another message for Chariji.)

"My son gives me so much joy. His strength and stamina amaze me sometimes; he is a glutton for work. Tell him how much I am proud of him; he is my joy. This seminar is an exemplary success for the West."

The Medium: "Babuji, should this message be transmitted?"

"Follow your heart."

(Then he went on, saying.)

"I am happy, very happy. I should not be too sentimental, otherwise he would not believe. I am happy for Sulochana; all is well. Bye for now!"
