Whispers from The Brighter World

Monday, September 17, 2012 — 10:00 a.m.

Countless messages have accumulated over the years. It is good to express oneself in this way and thus create an additional connection with our dearest incarnate son, the Master of the Sahaj Marg Mission. We communicate with him in many ways on other planes of consciousness where we meet on a regular basis. There, his work continues in all its might; it is good to see him act like that for this Mission, subtly going far beyond the limits of the material world.

"Our Mission has no borders — neither on Earth nor beyond, where it is also being developed in a sustainable manner. These comments are not easy to understand. We have mentioned earlier the plurality of worlds; the subtle energy generated by our Mission here below is reflected elsewhere and produces the best results. Thus an action is being consolidated that is desired by the higher powers and necessary as a priority in the world of matter.

"The union of forces at this level produces good results that benefit human beings. Good and evil manifest themselves here below, although a brighter future is being prepared therein. It is not easy to understand such a statement in the current situation where so much hatred and violence are taking place among human beings. It is not utopian to envision a world of peace and love. Many other wonders take place; they are undetectable by humans, yet they are real down here and beyond, in areas where humans cannot imagine that there could exist even a spark of life. And yet, contrary to current perceptions on Earth, it is not the only inhabited planet in space. That is how it is; make of it what you will!"
