Whispers from The Brighter World

Saturday, September 29, 2012 — 10:00 a.m.

Leave your worries aside — are we not here with you throughout this daily struggle where, despite your difficulties, the best is accomplished? Looking at the big picture is a good way to alleviate torments. What is written here helps many of our brothers and sisters, more than you can imagine. Words are not trivial; they are making their way into hearts, imperceptibly yet in a positive manner. Blessed are those who already appreciate and enjoy them; they thus gain valuable time.

An incarnation is short compared to eternity. Through their process, our abhyasis are securing significant progress in the long journey of the soul. We do not offer beautiful images to stir the imaginations of our brothers and sisters, but rather a more effective way to win over a sacred space that is not easy to access, even with long-running prayers. Prayers are not useless, and the one we propose for 9 p.m. is important. Neglected by many of our brothers and sisters, it nevertheless remains a point of rendezvous around the world, a common thread among people dedicated to this quest for the Divine. Everything has its importance in a way like ours. Creating this vibration that is conducive to the work of the incarnate Master reinforces the results thereof.

The call of hearts is growing, giving a greater aura to our Mission. The most ardent hearts are working for this magnificent way — a way that draws the magical circle in which the action of the higher powers takes place continuously. Blessed are the pure in heart, for they shall see the light. All are on their way, and they are opening the way to an unalterable peace.

We wish everyone the necessary surrender and a growing faith in their Master, who is holding in this world the power of the Spirit and acting for the good of humanity in its current state of disarray.
