Whispers from The Brighter World

Tuesday, October 2, 2012 — 10:00 a.m.

Imagine an ideal environment of peace and harmony; project yourself into that universe where all is calm and everything is forgotten — sorrows and joys alike — to make room for the bliss that is difficult to find in this world.

It is frustrating on this plane in many respects, but that is how it is. A magic wand cannot change it. The heart must and can change it; we offer a means of achieving long-term yet real results. Undertaking a process like the one we propose is not a waste of time. The results are there and manifest themselves over time. The heart is the seat of the soul; the image is beautiful, but even more beautiful is the result obtained through steady practice and an inner disposition capable of making the most of such a precious asset. Here, there are no disappointments or fluctuations in interest rates, and the sincere plea of a loving heart cannot remain ignored. Time confirms these statements. The prospects of a higher life beyond this world are well deserving of some effort. The results are long lasting; a soul that opens up to the celestial light is a priceless jewel. It goes beyond human understanding, and yet the most beautiful being is developed, and foundations that are already well established are consolidated. May all our brothers and sisters truly become aware of this opportunity to be seized. Lost time cannot be made up — it is as valuable as gold, and this gold cannot be melted or recycled for base materialistic purposes.

All of this flight of poetry aims to awaken our abhyasis to reality and stimulate them more than ever in their practice. Time lost can still be made up; it is up to each one to become aware of this truth. May all have this awareness and mobilise themselves; such is our wish.
