Whispers from The Brighter World

Tuesday, October 23, 2012 — 10:00 a.m.

My dear daughter,

"Dream of a perfect world, build it in your heart, imagine yourself in the beautiful nature that you miss so much, and you will sense a profound call that transcends by far human perceptions. Beyond the material world, one can revel in incomparable peace.

"Feel this wonder inside you; so many people aspire to live these moments, but they do not know 'the way' and they cannot imagine it. Proposing an appropriate method to hearts that are willing to follow it is a responsible act. It is up to each one to see, according to his aspirations; nothing can be forced. It is up to each one to go where he is guided by his heart; in this matter, he is best placed to do the right thing, insofar as the ideal prospect is made clearer to him.

"More and more men and women are feeling this appeal; the new era that is dawning will transform humans in many aspects. There is so much to do; modern life, which is supposed to lead this world to the best, creates so much disturbance and lack of respect between people and for core values that are no longer assigned their true value.

"We are not moralisers; we are just trying to emphasise anything that can hinder a being's evolution in this world that is so very troubled. We offer a 'way', a method that can lead the being towards the best in himself, which cannot be easily discerned. May all our brothers and sisters carefully consider this potential and progress in the discovery of the inner being, in their real aptitudes, and the matchless joys provided by such a spiritual progress. Blessed are the pure in heart: they shall see the light, the only one that can enchant a soul.

"Blessings to all."
