Whispers from The Brighter World

Thursday, November 15, 2012 — 10:00 a.m.

Long is the way — full of pitfalls and sorrows, but also joys. When a soul longs for the Divine and strives to see the light, it regards hardships inflicted in this world from another perspective. The Great Beings who left their mark in the memories have, by and large, endured a great deal; this cannot really be explained, thus are the laws. Man is small compared with this divine power that is unrecognised or ignored and rejected by so many humans. Opening up to this higher reality is already a big step forward. Working accordingly and choosing a suitable way testify to actual readiness to conquer this privileged space, from where the doors of the sacred are opened. Then begins a true journey whose goal is to achieve the ultimate dimension: that which leads man to complete detachment from materiality.

"It is all compatible here below: even a businessman can start working on himself without neglecting the necessities of life. A real call comes from the heart. The heart is the seat of the soul, wherein lies the real treasure. What must happen and must be done is accomplished step by step with the help of the living Master — thus is achieved that which did not seem possible. Doors open one by one and reveal the true nature of the incarnate being. This is a process whereby the seeker is meant to go beyond devotion. Devotion is still needed but it requires a different approach that enables the seeker to take the step that will clear the way to true spirituality. These nuances cannot necessarily be understood; faith, trust and the propensity to love support what is uniquely offered through our method in terms of outcome. Thus does wonder take place. That's how it is."
