Beloved Master
Revered Babuji Maharaj

Whispers from The Brighter World

Sunday, July 11, 1999 – 8:00 a.m.

Yes, my daughter, you will see again all these beings of light who have guided your life; you love them and you venerate them.
You are faithful in love.

The Medium: How would I not be, Babuji? I have received so much from these wonderful beings up to the moment I found you again. They continue to manifest themselves in certain circumstances; they have all my gratitude.

It is one of your qualities, it is important, it is the intelligence of the heart.

The Medium: Babuji, my heart overflows with love for everything these Masters gave me up to the time I came towards you, my Beloved.

I always followed you; it was necessary to wait for Sahaj Marg to come to you so that we could find each other again.

Taste this moment of grace. Our two hearts vibrate in unison in the divine energy; you are receiving in this moment what is not commonplace on Earth.

The Medium: Yes, my Beloved, these moments must be earned here below. But what happiness to feel so close to you, it is a true 'heart-to-heart'.

You see how convenient this kind of communication is; if we were face to face in flesh and bone, would we speak so freely? I doubt it.

The Medium: My gratitude and my love for you are boundless.

When you come to rejoin us in a world where the vibration is entirely love, you will then live what you glimpse today.

Let your heart, in each one of its particles, expand and open up to the Divine.

The Medium: Babuji, I have never tasted such felicity!

Enjoy this state, try to keep it in you today, without letting in any interference; our two hearts are one.

Your friends, who are privileged to reread what you write, to correct it if necessary, are lucky – they benefit from very precious spillovers.

The Medium: A thousand times thank you for all, Babuji.

Be especially blessed throughout this day.

Babuji
