Whispers from The Brighter World

Wednesday, November 28, 2012 – 10:00 a.m.

Relieve yourself of what is unnecessary and let your heart bathe in this ocean of love where it again finds peace and bliss. This ritual is sacred, as it is for all our brothers and sisters who are committed to this practice that leads them to our hearts. The incarnate Master is the guide, the scout somehow, and he holds powers for his role. It is not common to benefit from such an asset in a spiritual approach; may all our brothers and sisters truly become aware of this and really engage in their practice.

All in all, time is running out and cannot be made up for; let everyone act according to the aspirations of their hearts and we will answer in our own manner. The sovereign Spirit acts as it wishes, but always in the right direction by trying to help people get rid of the burdens that impede their way. There is much to do; different planes of consciousness are involved, and the work of an incarnate Master takes place within the framework of a common and much needed action. It is not easy for an aspirant to understand all these subtleties; trust is paramount here.

Human beings remain strangers to themselves; how could they have access to this knowledge that is beyond the most learned? No matter what people say, the mystery of life remains a reality and it will always be so. A serious spiritual quest is a major asset; it allows one to overcome the material world and to develop oneself on other levels of consciousness.

This is how it is; blessings to all.
