My Beloved Master
Revered Babuji Maharaj

Whispers from The Brighter World

Wednesday, December 5, 2012 — 10:00 a.m.

Taste this moment of peace and shared love; many hearts are uniting with us in this moment of very special communion, can you imagine it? The resonance of these messages goes beyond this world; this has already been mentioned herein. Beautiful souls follow us. They glimpse the prospects of a spiritual way like Sahaj Marg, and they take advantage of this vibratory resonance that is capable of transforming their subtle bodies. The journey will continue elsewhere, differently but in an equally constructive manner. Times are changing; many people feel a void within and they look for the appropriate means to fill it satisfactorily. A fervent soul always manages to find its way, even when it engages in what does not suit it. One day the truth dawns upon it and the path opens up before it.

"So has it been for many great mystics: one day the magic door opens and the heart is enthralled. Thus begins the true journey that is decisive for an incarnation. Finding one's way is an infinite grace; then begins a love story like no other. Blessed are the hearts that are fulfilled in this area in which there is no disappointment. Commitment and eagerness to act inevitably lead to the goal. Regarding our abhyasis, they are followed here and beyond. The purity of heart opens doors; such purity is the most convincing justification.

"Blessings to all."

Babuji Maharaj