Whispers from The Brighter World

Tuesday, December 25, 2012 – 10:00 a.m.

The laws of life are inescapable; everyone must comply with them. The principles of karma lie beyond; though personal, they concern each being, whether incarnate or not. Our method cleans and structures the subtle energies and promotes the blossoming of all. It is up to each one to improve themselves through this practice. Some elements are proposed; it is important here to invest oneself and not overlook what can be harmful to this evolutionary process. Strictly following what we propose bears fruit; not everyone is able to truly assess their condition. Personal commitment remains of great importance in this matter. We cannot force anything. Some of our abhyasis put up barriers for themselves in certain circumstances where they don't see the need to act in the right direction. We help them to the extent that their openness of heart is satisfactory; we cannot force anything, but only support a deep call from the seeker. There, our action takes on its full dimension and helps the abhyasi go beyond his or her personal limitations.

Every sincere call is heard; few of our brothers and sisters can assess their own progress. The Mission as a whole is moving towards the goal, and each one receives according to their request. May all be reassured: no one is forgotten; the divine power operates when needed and as needed. A spiritual Master of high calibre has this power, and relying on him is the most appropriate attitude there is. Being incarnate, his spiritual stature gives him this privilege; your Master performs his duties according to what is vested in him by this power. May all rest assured, they fully benefit from it according to what they can receive.
