Whispers from The Brighter World

Friday, December 28, 2012 — 10:00 a.m.

Don't worry, all is well; these messages achieve their objective and they are winning over hearts more and more. For that, everything is being done and has been done for a long time. Doesn't everything have its reason for being?

"Here, as elsewhere, the divine plans are being achieved. From the smallest to the largest action, everything falls into place in due time and people must adapt themselves accordingly. Do they have a choice? It does not seem so, as it all depends on the supreme Will. Regardless of what he does, the human being must adapt himself to the implications of the eternal logic here below, where many things will change except for this aspect of the Higher Power. From time immemorial, Great Beings have been guided and inspired to meet objectives that are, most of the time, beyond their own understanding. This world works like that, and it is not the only one that is orchestrated in this manner. The universe is immense — a system that is beyond human comprehension.

"Humans don't have the ability to change their own functioning either; to some extent, they have no control over their physical body, despite the progress of science. Often, and in many circumstances, surrender is their last remaining asset. Spiritual capital is granted to each person, but not everyone uses it. It will take several incarnations to consent to this singular process. Many are advancing and they contribute to the vast divine plans related to the overall evolution of humanity.

"May all beings someday understand this necessity; our method is also geared towards that. We wish the best of success to everyone."
