Whispers from The Brighter World

Tuesday, January 22, 2013 – 10:00 a.m.

There are more surprises in store for you regarding the planned trajectory of these messages. There are thousands of them, and they are rich in teachings, you can be sure. Nothing will stop their progression in the world of humans. Doesn't everything have its raison d'être? After many cataclysms on this Earth, a part of it will indeed remain where, by and large, our teaching will live on.

What is essential endures; it has always been so. Evolved beings know how to keep things in perspective and preserve that which must be preserved. The evolution of the world must go through stages of transformation of all kinds. Challenges are necessary for all that lives here below, and that is not about to change. A teaching like ours benefits that planned evolution. Humans must become refined in order to arrive at that long-planned stage.

Many planets are inhabited – not the way humans imagine. Many have already attained a very high level of refinement. This discovery would astonish the most sceptical; the Earth is far from being the most evolved planet. This will become obvious to all the day the cosmic forces manifest here below to stop disturbances that are more and more worrying, not only for planet Earth, but also for the whole of creation.

Earthlings are doing more and more damage in this domain. It seems that nothing can stop them, but one day they will understand that certain limits must not be exceeded on pain of doing irreparable harm.

May these writings lead our readers to a profound reflection, useful for themselves and for all.
