My Beloved Master
Revered Babuji Maharaj

Whispers from The Brighter World

Wednesday, January 23, 2013 — 10:00 a.m.

You keep this love intact inside yourself, as well as an eagerness to serve us that has not waned over the years. Against all odds, you continue to maintain that uncommon readiness to listen, which we appreciate. One day, our abhyasis will truly understand the importance of these messages; they will need them more and more in the face of life's challenges.

"A spiritual dimension is a very special refuge for humans. Advancing through a process like ours strengthens them, not only in this incarnation, but also for the rest of their journey beyond this world. A process of this kind opens up on Infinity and is a great help, saving a lot of time.

"Reading a message like this one is more than reading — it is about uniting with the heart of the Masters while letting oneself be carried by a special vibration that is capable of stimulating the psychic centres.

"The short time devoted to this reading bears fruit. It is not easy for all our brothers and sisters to understand these mechanisms in a society where the senses are constantly alert and focused on the multiple episodes of current life. The wise understand the need to devote time to their practice; it is very valuable, although it cannot be easily assessed.

"Blessed are our abhyasis. A day will come when they will understand how productive their journey is.

"We wish the best to all in every respect."

Babuji Maharaj