Whispers from The Brighter World

Saturday, February 9, 2013 – 10:00 a.m.

These many messages have quenched your heart's thirst throughout the years. You did not ask for anything; your time in our Mission was programmed in this way and your role was long planned. Nothing happens without reason in a register like this, where surrender is sovereign.

All that is decisive and important in our Mission is developed in this way. Many criteria should be considered; divine plans cannot be ignored and no one on this Earth can escape them. Major roles are established in advance and humans must live with them. It has always been so in this world; humans make many plans, but destiny envisions others. Thus is life organised here below; the Divine provides for it.

Our Mission is flowering, filling the hearts that are attentive to the fragrance it gives off through its discrete but very effective action. Sensitive hearts are appreciative – those who have long been moving towards the ultimate goal and who find here, in this rather special practice, favourable elements and the subtlety that suits them. Beyond reasoning and rules established by each one, and in order to comply as best as possible with what we propose, refined beings act according to the yearnings of their hearts, their needs, where only the aspirant can manage his or her thirst for the Divine. This thirst calls us and draws our attention; thus is the miracle accomplished – the seeker finds the source where his or her thirst can be quenched. To witness a soul rising, replete with this unique energy, is so very rewarding.

Blessed are the ardent hearts determined to forge ahead at all costs, sometimes after a few sacrifices – but these, over time, are not regretted. The beings concerned will understand these comments which may not be clear to all. We wish each one the best: faith, and the strength to accomplish what faith sometimes requires in terms of commitment. The fate of each and every one lies there, and we help them achieve the best that is possible regarding their spiritual journey.
