Thursday, July 15, 1999 - 8:00 a.m.

One day, you will access true knowledge. It cannot be communicated to humans, even if they are ready to receive it. You already understood that the important thing lay inside you and was not palpable. It is a door that opens on to infinity, which is worth all teachings. The way to the inner Master leads to realization. By plunging more and more deeply inwards, into the subtler layers of your being, you are carried in this raging tide, which is: Love. One day, you will understand what true love is. You imagine, you believe you know it, [but] you have only a hazy idea of its reality. It is about an infinitely subtle energy, which cannot be really perceived on this Earth, which is gross in terms of its vibration.

"Refining yourself vibrationally, when your cells start to be divinized, you manage to foresee this paradise. There is the other side, like in anything created; perceptions are refined, sensitivity too. On certain levels of consciousness, it manifests itself at the highest degree. Therefore, try to understand us, we are so eager to see you advancing truly, that we have often to rush you, to criticize you. We try to make you understand that it's urgent to become actually aware of this aspect. You should give your all in your spiritual work, it is the only way, under the control of your Masters, to reach the goal as quickly as possible."

Babuji