Whispers from The Brighter World

Sunday, February 17, 2013 — 10:00 a.m.

Here, we express ourselves very simply in order to touch hearts; isn't this what should be done in such a situation! More 'learned' books have been written and they are still very little read. Sophisticated formulas do not necessarily lead to the truth; only the attraction of the heart matters, what it is sensing as well as what these comments generate in it. The intellect has a different, more superficial approach to these phenomena in such cases. A spiritual process leads the being to excel, to explore other aspects of his consciousness, of his possibilities of understanding. We cannot force anything but only provide simple elements capable of producing the desired responses.

"Nothing is ever to the liking of all, but the largest number seems to appreciate what we offer with these writings; isn't this the most important thing!

"Minds are opening up slowly but satisfactorily. We can judge this from here where we perceive the good effects of these messages, beyond the intellectual perceptions of each of our readers. Many of these writings are now read by non-abhyasis and this is worth emphasising here. Why not? — one might say. We discuss a simple reality, yet one that is decisive for human evolution. There is nothing secret in our Mission; we lay stress on the laws of the heart whose effects are so important and beneficial.

"We see our abhyasis changing. It is all happening slowly but safely. There is nothing illusory in that; only the simplicity of the approach touches hearts and clears their way more surely in this area than an intellectual approach would. Doesn't everything have its raison d'être! Many possibilities are offered to man in an incarnation. The way of Sahaj Marg is among them — one that is effective for his evolution.

"Blessings to all."
