The way of the heart is the most just, and the noblest one; it leads us here, on this long journey of these special contacts. Have our readers truly realised what they represent? Somehow, these writings will be remembered in our Mission. They should be granted their rightful importance, which the future will knowingly give them. So many changes will occur on Earth; they will generate a different mindset among a very large number of people who will have actually become aware of the fragility of life. There is no time to lose. May all grasp the truth of these comments — such is our goal. Spiritual advancement is the primary objective; all our work goes in that direction.

"The future will actually be in need of enlightened beings capable of considering an incarnation as an opportunity given to man to advance and not to get lost in power struggles, as is the case today even within human groups where such struggles are not expected. Unfortunately, human beings remain as they are, still grappling with their tendencies and personal weaknesses. Our system aims, among other things, to make lighter and to let the best aspects emerge in beings who are spiritually committed within a way whose principles are effective.

"Indeed, nothing in this area is easy; one should respect the choices of the Spiritual Master. This is not simple for all; egos manifest themselves and depart from what is envisioned by the living Master who is inspired by the higher authorities.

"These authorities can look far, very far into the future; hence in certain circumstances, decisions are made because they are needed. Wisdom requires that they be respected. Man is limited to his own vision which often misleads him.

"Let us hope that all have the wisdom to respect the will of the current Master, who is carried in his actions by the higher powers for the good of the whole of this spiritual Mission that we hold so dear. Blessings to all."
