Whispers from The Brighter World

Tuesday, March 5, 2013 – 10:00 a.m.

This ritual is well established; many years have given it a solid foundation. These messages, received in profusion, constitute a new record in the genre. We are delighted, you can be sure, by their impact on our abhyasis. This mystical epic will remain one of the positive aspects of our Mission. It will leave its mark over time, in its own manner, without great demonstrative rituals. During our gatherings, large or small, it is characterised by a silence and an interiorisation that are delightful to the heart and to the elevation of the soul. A well-established action brings aspirants together and unites them in a state of serenity.

Isn't it good, in these highly agitated times, to create spaces of peace and love by cultivating them in hearts that are surrendered and sincere. Such an achievement in one's life is precious. Everything is counted in the least detail and remains important until the end. An active spiritual process, such as the one we offer in this Sahaj Marg path, is a blessing for abhyasis. The work being done operates at subtle levels, most of which are not perceptible; what matters is the long-term result – this is considerable, you can be sure.

Large gatherings are rare blessings; it is wise to take advantage of them whenever possible. Everyone does the best they can at all levels.

Interiorising oneself, uniting with the Divine, with the living Master – the Chosen One of our hearts, united to assume this very heavy but sublime duty – is a sign of wisdom that is promising in every respect. The doors are open, and fervent hearts are welcome; all are awaited and received with care. A call is always heard and acted upon, even if this is not felt at the human level. Nothing is useless in this world; everything is appreciated for its true worth. Divine laws are unavoidable and productive in their effects. May all advance as best they can; we are seeing to it attentively.

Blessings.
