Friday, July 16, 1999 - 8:00 a.m.

This ashram of Montpellier is not valued at its true worth; it is not only a meditation centre. It lacks space inside and an appealing frontage that would help attract the abhyasis. Appearances are not essential in this kind of place; the human side always prevails. What it represents goes far beyond the visible. Though it does not have the style, the aesthetic and the grounds of Augerans, it has a special role, which is quite equally important. Not many abhyasis are aware of this, as it is the shallow side of their nature, which prevents them from seeing the reality of the place and feeling the charge it conceals. Its time has not come as yet. Many groups would love to have such a place to live their spirituality. You are fortunate to be able to benefit from it.

"Do not forget it and try to make it more active."

Babuji