Whispers from The Brighter World

Friday, July 16, 1999 – 8:00 a.m.

This ashram in Montpellier is not valued at its true worth; it is not just a meditation centre.

It lacks space inside and an appealing exterior, something that also attracts abhyasis.

Appearances are not foremost in this kind of place; it is always the human side that prevails. What it represents goes far beyond the visible.

Though it does not have the style, the aesthetic and the green spaces of Augerans, it has a special and equally important role.

Few abhyasis are aware of this – it is the shallow side of their nature that prevents them from seeing the reality of the place and feeling the charge it holds.

Its time has not come.

Many groups would like to have such a place to live their spirituality.

You are fortunate to be able to benefit from it.

Do not forget it, and try to make it more active.
