Whispers from The Brighter World

Monday, March 18, 2013 — 10:00 a.m.

There is always strength in reserve. Is it not inside you — in the depths of your being, where every time, driven by love, you find the necessary energy to tune in to us like this. There lies the source that flows and strengthens you. Aren't your noblest actions inspired by it! The best in a human being exists there, where the divine energy inspires him when he calls upon it. Every human being has this treasure — the true purpose of his life is there, in him, and he must therefore find it.

"Our way is working accordingly; there is always a means to achieve it when the heart exhibits keenness in its actions. With effort upon effort, the seeker reaches the goal. It is important to have a guide. Reaching the highest summits entails total commitment and sustained action. A truly committed mystic finds the means to act and organise his life accordingly. Managing all concurrently is not easy, but can success be achieved without effort! We are happy to see all our aspirants not only advancing, but managing to put things into perspective and developing accordingly.

"The thread that leads to the goal lies in this: being involved in the material life and cultivating inside oneself this rare flower, that of the Spirit capable of elevating the soul to the highest summit under the beneficial and promising waves of our love. A soul that opens up under the powerful effects of the rays of love saves valuable time. In this, the living Master is the appropriate guide — he knows what he has to do and what he can do. These powers are vested in him so that he can fulfil his mission here below. He is doing it wonderfully; under his action a soul becomes more beautiful and merges into this powerful wave that is capable of performing miracles. Everything is then possible. When a call is deep and sincere it is always heard, and everything is done to answer it according to the divine rules and laws.

"May the best be accomplished for all; we are seeing to it, you may be sure."
